TENNIS SHOES SHOULD BE LOVED

FRANK® WORKS

The One is more than just footwear - they're a game changer. The perfect blend of comfort, support and grip gives me the confidence to move faster, play harder and push my limits on the court.

LEE WHITWELL
#1 RANKED FEMALE SENIOR PRO

I've played tennis and pickleball and padel in this shoe over the last month and it is amazing. It's by far the most comfortable shoe that I've ever had.

SCOTT COLEBOURNE
CEO, COURTSIDE GUIDE

...this is easily the most comfortable shoe I've ever worn. I could literally wear it all day, which as any tennis player knows, is extremely unusual. On court, I love the lightness of the shoe and the way it helps me move. 5 Stars!

These shoes are amazing! My little one is learning to move/walk and I believe these shoes are just right to support him in a natural way. I love the leather bottom and sock like top.

TRUSTPILOT REVIEW
JUNE 2nd 2025

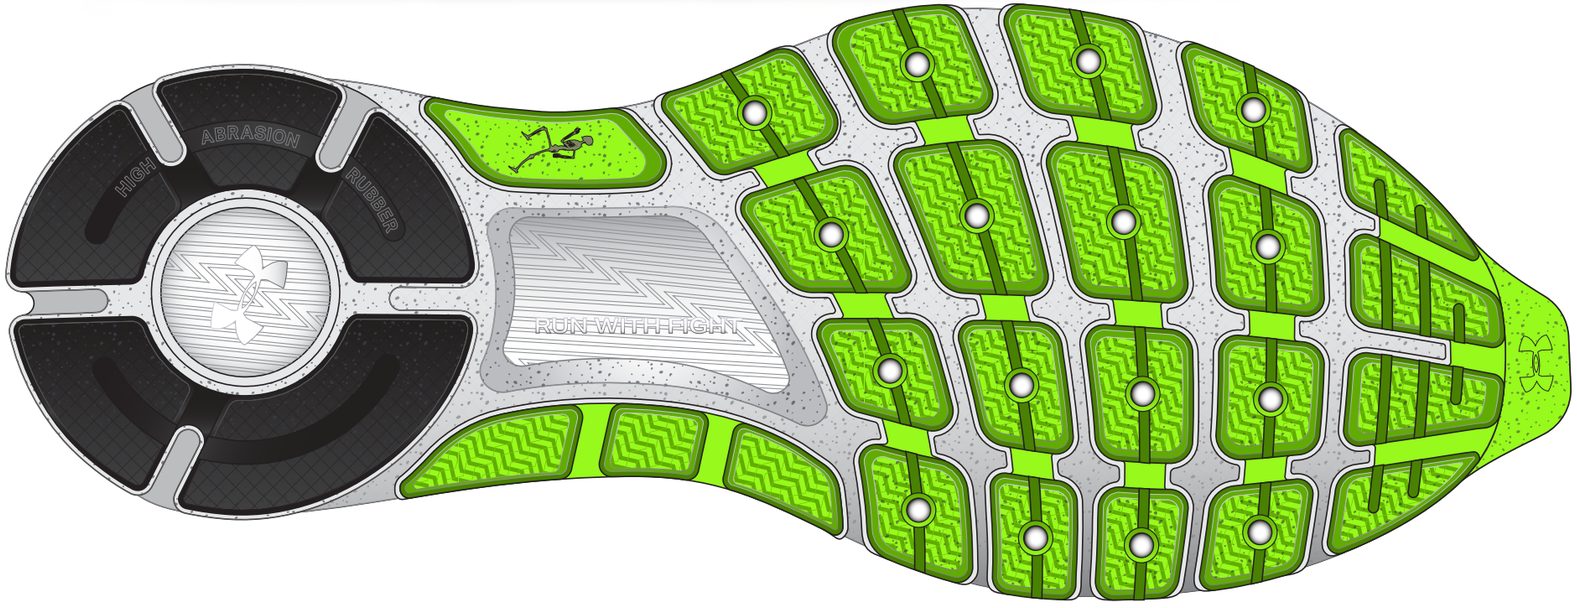

These are the best shoes! They are breathable and allow the little ones to use their feet with dexterity - none of that clunky, impeding plastic. They are also so adorable. We are on our third pair. So grateful to have found these!

[MEN'S ONLY]
MIZUNO WAVE RIDER 12 $100

WE SAY This lightweight cushioning shoe is noticeably softer than its predecessor. In this update Mizuno has replaced 66 percent of the petroleum in its full-length midsole plate with castor oil, so it will biodegrade easily. It's built on the same last, so the changes to the fit are minimal. Some testers mentioned it fitting a half size small, so be sure to try it before you buy. Recommended for efficient runners with normal to high arches looking for a shoe with an outstanding fit and feel.

WEAR-TESTERS SAY "I ran a sockless 11-mile tempo run in them right out of the box with no marks on my feet."
—Brian Hendricks, 36, Allentown

"An exceptional, lightweight, well-cushioned training shoe."
—Kevin Myers, 34, Allentown

[WOMEN'S ONLY]
MIZUNO WAVE RIDER 12 $100

WE SAY As with the Inspire 5 (page 87) the women's-specific Rider is slightly softer in the heel compared with previous versions. The forefoot bends upward a bit more in the 12, so it feels more flexible even though it doesn't score that way in our lab tests. These are important changes because women don't have the weight to compress or flex a firmer shoe as effectively. Recommended for runners with high arches looking for an everyday trainer with a good fit.

WEAR-TESTERS SAY "The shoe fit quite well, especially through the arch."
—Sheri Kline, 38, Allentown

"I really liked the overall comfort of the shoe."
—Julianna Juhasz, 44, San Diego

EDITOR'S RUNNER'S WORLD CHOICE

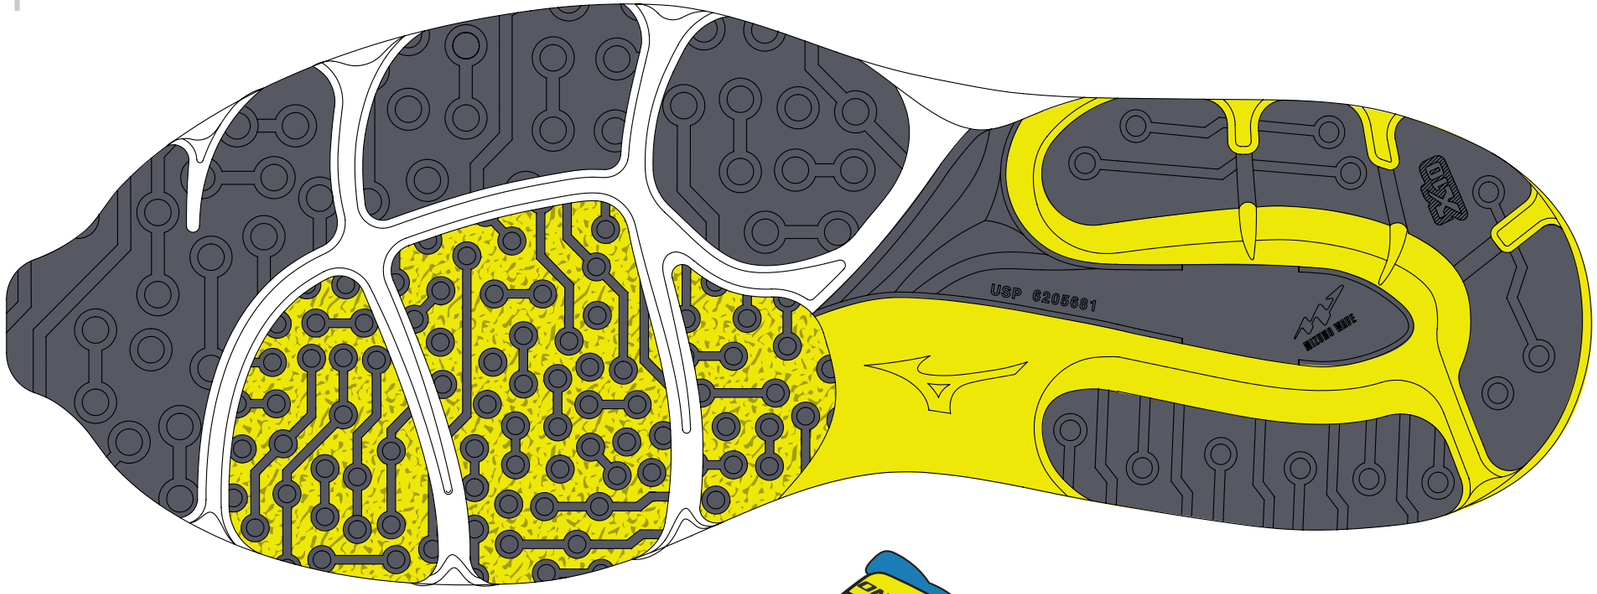

Reviewers praised it as a nimble, responsive and breathable neutral trainer that handled high mileage runs comfortably. The Mizuno Wave Rider 12, originally released in 2009, was celebrated for introducing Mizuno's milestone Gender Engineering design, which tailored the fit and midsole structure differently for men and women.
